Teacher union official says his group supports millage

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
Special ANP Writer

"In general I am for the millage and we support it because the students need the 6-hour school day."

Mike Teasdale, chairman of the business department and a local negotiator for the Romulus Education Association which represents about 260 teachers, is speaking of the upcoming millage vote Nov. 8.

This is not as easy to speak about as one would imagine. The teachers in Romulus have been locked in a wage dispute with the school district for more than a year.

Teachers' salaries were slashed 22 percent last Nov. 15 which to an individual teacher means an immediate reduction of $4000 to $6000.

Class hours have been reduced from 6 hours to 5 over the past 3 years.

A reduction of 110 teachers in the same period of time has increased class load to near maximum levels of 33-35 students per class.

Romulus School District has the highest class size average of any in Wayne County.

The teachers' attitude could be described as "discouraged, frustrated, and angry," Teasdale said.

"And individual teachers have become more militant," he added.

"At first we thought the problem could be resolved. We thought we could solve it. But now no progress has been made.

"We're earning less this year than last year," he noted.

The problem generally is that as pay cut has affected teacher earnings, he explains, it has increased their workload, and because of the slash of school programs in hours and class selection, this has all diminished teacher morale.

"As a professional educator here," he said, "I feel the students have the potential to be as good as any in Wayne County and can hold their head up with the best in the state.

"But the community has to support the Romulus school system as the best school systems are supported.

"Teacher morale is the lowest it has been since I've been a teacher," said Teasdale, a 10-year Romulus High veteran.

"But the cohesiveness is at its highest. People respond well when they are treated alike. And we are all being treated alike.

"Students in Romulus deserve the best," he added. "Passing the millage would give them the opportunity to have the best that is available in education."

Letter explains board's position

A letter asking the support of the parents and taxpayers of Romulus in the upcoming millage vote Nov. 8 is notable in that it attempts to sum up the problems that Romulus Schools face.

The letter, dated Oct. 4 and signed by School Board President Daniel Bales on behalf of the Board, is reprinted here:

Dear Parents and Taxpayers:

The Romulus Board of Education is anxious for you to understand what is happening to our school district. You need to know because the condition of our educational system directly affects not only our families, but the value of our homes.

As your elected Board of Education, we have made some very difficult decisions to keep the budget balanced and our school doors open. We have arrived at a point, however, where we can no longer continue without your help. Many of our employees are beginning their fourth year of a pay freeze while others have experienced as much as a 22 percent wage rollback. This has a bad effect on morale and has caused extensive legal problems. We are in desperate need of textbooks, our bus fleet is old and in need of replacement, and several of our buildings are absolutely being ruined because of leaky roofs. In addition to these everyday items, we need to examine the overall quality of our education and make long term decisions in various instructional areas.

It is the Board's goal to achieve reasonable settlements with all its employees and to provide adequate transportation, textbooks, and instructional programs. We cannot do this without your financial support. The Romulus Schools have not had an operating millage increase since 1977 and our total tax rate when compared to our immediate neighbors is not unusually high and, as a matter of fact, three of the school districts in Southern Wayne County have substantially higher school millage levies.

Your Board of Education feels it has done everything possible to save our schools, including initiating a lawsuit against the State and seeking added revenue from sources such as the Airport. Despite all these efforts, we must have additional millage or we will not be able to guarantee a full day, full year of instruction for our children.

We know it will be difficult for some of you to support increased taxes. For those of us who have children in school, the need is obvious.

On November 8, 1983 in conjunction with the City's general election, the Romulus Board of Education has placed two operating millage issues on the ballot. We urge you in the interest of our children's future, and in the interest of maintaining property values, to consider the issues and vote. Thank you.

Hearings begin

Romulus suit attacks school aid formula

A 22-school district lawsuit, which includes Romulus, asking for "funding equity" among school districts, begins oral arguments before the State Appeals Court in Lansing Thursday.

The lawsuit, initiated by Romulus School District, questions the constitutionality of the present system of school financing.

In effect, it asks the court to invalidate the current system of funding schools in Michigan whereby property-rich districts spend, in some cases, double on students while their taxpayers pay as much as 9 mills less than neighboring districts.

This is due, the lawsuit contends, to the state aid formula for funding which fails to compensate poor districts which have low property evaluation.

For instance, Romulus has $55,000 of taxable property to educate each student.

Dearborn has $156,000 of taxable property per pupil to educate their children.

So a superintendent in Romulus has $2700 to spend on a public while a Dearborn superintendent has $4,200 to spend.

Romulus Supt. William Bedell, who initiated the lawsuit with the school board, said:

"To further compound the injustice, the Romulus homeowner pays 36.15 mills to support his schools, while the Dearborn homeowner only pays 25.13 mills.

"This means that the average homeowner in Romulus pays $275 more in taxes each year for school, basically because Dearborn has more industry."

The current suit would require the state to finance with approximate equal funding for every student in the state.

This would be done by a state property tax. The money would be distributed equally among all students in each district.

Dr. Bedell and Romulus school board members will attend the court's opening oral arguments, with other superintendents of the 22-member legal consortium.

On schools' status

State fact-finders present report

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
Special ANP Writer

"Our purpose here was to aid in some fact-getting, and to see what suggestions... we would offer to the district which might be some help in the upcoming millage election."

Net Hubbell, of the Michigan Department of Education, defined his role and that of his colleagues, two of whom were with him as he summed up a day last week talking with parents and teachers in the Romulus School District.

Hubbell and John Marrs, communication specialist with the Michigan Association of School Boards, and Dan Austin of the Michigan Education Association, gave their impressions of attitudes toward Romulus schools.

Hubbell described their report as a "windshield estimate" and cautioned those attending, the administration, board members and school principals as well as members of EPIC (a citizens advisory group) to take their estimates in the context of the brief time allowed to make them.

Hubbell said it was his observation that regarding the upcoming millage election that if it is at all possible to achieve, for the good of district and the benefit of the taxpayers, it is the resolution of the "contractual arrangement between the district... and the teachers."

"That kind of 'inside the family' clarification... is a kind of major brick in the platform which leads to voters consideration," he explained.

"That's a must and one of the top priorities," he said. "The internal consideration, if it can be resolved, will help the election," he said.

"That's one impression that I got. I kept hearing it from everywhere. Not just staff. But parents, who said 'Hey, they got to get that thing solved first' ", added Hubbell.

John Marrs, of the Michigan Association of School Boards, reiterated that impression and said there were a significant number of people "who would like to see that issue put to bed, they are tired of it."

"They would like to see some kind of stability," Marrs said, "and that (settlement) would contribute to that."

"The stability would improve the climate of learning," Marrs said.

Marrs and Hubbell noted that there is a "they-us" kind of attitude in Romulus. And that this is a symptom of what was going on and that if problems were resolved attitudes would resolve into a "we-us" attitude.

But Marrs said he really noted a "can-do" feeling in the community and that people are ready to get at the problems and solve them.

Dan Austin of the Michigan Education Association said he found that "people have a significant interest in education in Romulus... regarding the teaching staff and the parents and the citizens."

"They have some very high expectations of how that ought to happen," Austin continued.

Student radio debuts at BHS

By CAROL A. CARLSON

Every morning, shortly after the bell rings to start school, the opening music of W.B.H.S. quiets the classrooms. What follows takes a lot more time and preparation than most people realize.

At the beginning of the school year, try-outs, open to all students, are held. Approximately 15 people make up the crew of W.B.H.S. and usually five leave the crew due to graduation, so the people who make it are really good at what they do. At this time also, a Program Manager is elected.

Debi Sumner is the Program Manager for the 1983-84 school year.

The people on W.B.H.S. announce one day a week in groups of two. They must arrive at the station 15 minutes before school starts. At this time all announcements are collected and practiced.

The news aired on W.B.H.S. ranges from student achievements to the results of Friday night's football game.

The goal of W.B.H.S. is to promote and commend the highest standards of the students at Belleville High School.

Man leaps from overpass

By JERRY DESHARNAIS
(Special ANP Writer)

A 58-year-old man was injured in a jump from the overpass at Willow Road into the southbound lane of I-275 last Tuesday, police said. He is listed in poor condition.

The man, identified as John Taylor of Dearborn, leaped into the path of an oncoming beverage truck which managed to avoid hitting him.

The driver of the truck, Lawrence Wiler, from Swanton, Ohio, said that as he approached the overpass he noticed the man changing his place on the bridge to coincide with the lane that the truck was on. Wiler suspected that the man was about to jump. The truck driver stopped on the side of the road near the overpass, and Taylor jumped, falling a distance of about 25 feet, landing in the centerlane.

Taylor was not struck by oncoming vehicles. He suffered a broken ankle, broken leg, and a large laceration to the forehead with possible internal injuries. Officer Carl Hatcher of the Metro Park Rangers and Huron police officer Jerry Copeland arrived at the scene.

Taylor was taken to Wayne County General Hospital where he is listed in poor condition.

The incident occurred about 2:30 p.m.

Woman facing double embezzlement charges

By HOWARD SCOTT
ANP Staff Writer

A 23-year old Westland woman will be in court tomorrow facing two counts of embezzlement.

Katherine S. Torossian will appear in the 36th District Court for a hearing on charges that she embezzled more than $50,000 from two separate employers during the past two years.

The first charge accuses Torossian of stealing $38,653.24 from Woodland Medical Group, which is located on Eight Mile Road in Detroit, between June 1981 and May of this year. Torossian's job with Woodland was that of a payroll clerk.

She is also charged with stealing $11,884.31 from Shedd's Food Products, 14401 Dexter, in Detroit, between Aug. 25 and Sept. 6, 1983.

Sgt. Nicholas Zazula of the bad checks division of the Detroit Police Department, said that Torossian's job as a payroll clerk at the medical clinic allowed her access to payroll and benefit checks for several employees.

"There were over 300 people employed there, and a total payroll in the millions of dollars, so it took the people at the clinic longer than you might imagine to notice the money that was missing," said Zazula. "Some of these checks were for advances on salaries, or medical benefits employees were paying for, and that made them harder to trace or detect missing."

Torossian has been accused of placing her name on the checks which had been issued to other employees.

She left the clinic late in May of this year for what she called "personal reasons," but the clinic claims that excessive absenteeism was the cause of her departure.

Torossian began working for Shedd's July 25 as an accounting clerk. Her previous employer was not asked for a reference.

LINDA CHOATE

Challenger: Choate

As an only child I was born 43 years ago in a small southern farming community located in north-western Tennessee. As World War II ended, my parents as thousands of other families following the American Dream, migrated to the industrialized urban areas of the North and settled in Highland Park, Michigan.

In 1954 they purchased a home in Taylor and I graduated from Taylor Center High School.

My husband Kenneth and I have been married 26 years and have two children: Richard, 24, and Suzanne, 23. We have been homeowners and city taxpayers in Romulus for 22 years.

Several years ago I started employment with the City of Romulus and was placed in the Clerk's Office in an entry level position.

Over the years I progressed to Deputy Clerk, a position I had for four years.

During my tenure with the city, I came to know and love you, the citizens of this community, and you felt secure in the knowledge that if you needed an answer to a question, a record, something notarized, help with writing a letter to your senator or your congressman, you could always depend on Linda Choate.

You also know that when you arrived at the office you would be greeted with a smile, invited in and offered a cup of coffee.

Further you were aware of the standards of excellence maintained by the office and the quality of work produced. Everyone that came to my counter was treated equally with the same dignity and respect, rich or poor, young or old, friend or foe.

In an effort to provide the best possible service to those who were paying my salary and with the thought that someday that you may make me your Clerk, I sought out professional organization which provided knowledge and training through classes and seminars, such as the Michigan Municipal League to provide the unique type of training necessary to become a professional municipal clerk.

As the Mayor pointed out in his last newspaper column, the City did suffer through some very lean years. Although previous policy was to fund employee training and education courses pertaining to their job, no money was available. However, I thought the benefits far outweighed the cost of several hundred dollars therefore I paid it out of my pocket.

Also among my experiences are three years as an Election Clerk. I completed the requirements for certification as a professional municipal clerk at Syracuse University in 1979.

I am a precinct delegate. I am also a member of the 15th Congressional Democratic District and a member and past secretary of the Western Wayne County Democratic Association.

I am a former member of the Romulus Board of Canvassers, former member of the International Institute of Municipal Clerks, the Michigan Municipal Clerks Association and the Wayne County Municipal and Township Clerks Association.

I have made a decision to seek the office of City Clerk because I believe the citizens of the City of Romulus are entitled to a competent and qualified and capable candidate.

During my tenure as Deputy Clerk I became acutely aware of how important it is that record keeping be done in an efficient and orderly manner, that ordinance and resolutions are vital evidence of a transaction at City Council, that it is imperative that they be recorded and published properly, and above all the purity and sanctity of its elections must be maintained without a hint of irregularity.

I have a thorough knowledge of the responsibilities of the office and possess a solid background as a City Clerk.

Who will serve the City of Romulus as its Clerk for the next two years — incumbent Ray Cantrell or challenger Linda Choate?

It is you, the Romulus voter, who holds the answer to that pertinent question. And, on November 8, you will cast your vote for the candidate of your choice. To help voters decide who will best serve the interests of this city, The Associated Newspapers and The Romulus Roman will offer interviews with the candidates. This series of interviews concerns the clerk's race.

Despite the cold and a loss, Lisa Rivera (above, at left) and her court Michelle Grizzle, Kimberly Hammons, Mia-Kimberly Doss and Tyra Spaulding had a lot to smile about Friday night. Miss Rivera was named Homecoming Queen and reigned over the Homecoming festivities which included the gala dance.

The queen and her court were winners

However, the Eagles lost a hard-fought 18-12 decision to visiting Oak Park on a field that appears to be a jinx for the home team. Romulus has not won a football game at North Junior High since moving to the junior high field three years ago.

Learn from mistakes Students to get chance to look at answers

Students taking the Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test/National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test (PSAT/NMSQT) this year on Oct. 18 will be able to "learn from their own mistakes" by using information in their score report provided by the College Board, according to Mrs. Allie Mae Jackson, director of guidance at Romulus High School.

"After taking the PSAT/NMSQT, all students receive a 'Report of Student Answers' which includes the correct answers and their own responses and scores," said the local guidance official. "They also receive their own test booklets so that they can review the actual questions, see which ones they got wrong, and try to figure out the correct answer and why they may have missed it."

This process can help students learn from their own mistakes by encouraging them to understand the reasoning involved in finding the right answer, an ability which will be useful for future school work. Looking at the kinds of mistakes made on the test can help students identify areas in which they may be weak and need more work.

Before taking the PSAT/NMSQT students receive a Student Bulletin containing a complete practice test with an answer key and scoring instructions. After the test, they receive a booklet, About Your PSAT/NMSQT Scores, that helps them to interpret their test results and to plan for college.

Other services that enable counselors and other school personnel to better understand and interpret the test results to students and parents include school summaries of students' answers, profiles of the academic characteristics and career interests of students taking the test, and a special publication for use with students as part of a general guidance program.

The PSAT/NMSQT is cosponsored by the College Board and the National Merit Scholarship Corporation. Since 1959, more than 26 million students have taken the test, which measures verbal and mathematical abilities.

By taking the test, students discover how they rank among juniors (or sophomores or seniors) taking the test across the country. It also provides a preview of the College Board's Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT), taken by many college-bound students. The PSAT/NMSQT is also the qualifying test for students wishing to participate in competitions of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation.

Cobb murder trial to resume

The continuation of the criminal examination in the case of John Frye is slated for 10 a.m. Friday at the 34th District Court in Romulus.

Frye, a co-defendant with Gregory Heisler in the death of Dixie Cobb of New Boston, was scheduled for trial Sept. 2 on 1st degree murder and 1st degree criminal sexual conduct charges before Judge William J. Giovan.

Judge Giovan ruled that the case of Heisler be adjourned until December since Heisler's defense attorney would not be available.

Giovan also ruled that the case of Frye be remanded (returned) to 34th District Court for more information to determine "probable cause".

A special prosecutor, Chuck Sellers, of the Circuit Court will conduct the prosecution at the examination Friday. The defense attorney for John Frye is Alan Helmkamp.

It is possible that further witnesses will be subpoenaed to appear at Friday's examination to provide further information to sustain 1st degree murder charges.

It is also possible that a lesser charge will be sought if it is determined that sufficient information is not available to sustain 1st degree murder charge.

The examination will be held before Judge Henry Zaborowski of the 34th District Court.

State unveils school report

have gone the last few years.

"And I think I heard that over and over and I think I heard the desire to do 'what we can do' to begin to put things back together.

"At the same time I heard some conditions. And I heard some conditions from parents and I heard conditions from the staff that we talked to.

"One of the things that I heard the parents saying (and I did not hear one of the parents not say it) was that they want some assurances of how funds are going to be spent and what they are going to be spent on, etc.

"There's not a lot of trust... They want their youngsters to have six hours of instructions, and they want to have art and gym. Whether they will turn around and vote for that is... another question.

"The staff has equally strong conditions," Austin continued. "They feel very, very strong about this contract question.

"They feel totally let down. Their feelings range all the way from out-and-out frustration to comments about what the board and administration are really trying to do like 'they're really trying to bust this union because we are senior members of the staff and we're way up on the seniority list and we're professionals and they just can't push us around'."

Those issues, Austin said, are really "up there."

"The trust question is one that we hear openly," he said. "We hear people wanting to trust. But saying history doesn't allow me to trust."

All members of the panel seemed to touch on the matter of the in-house problems of negotiations as part of the problem of resolving Romulus' school problems.

"Trust first, all else follows," said Hubbell.

Romulus schools resume bargaining

"We are going into intensive bargaining with all employee groups within the next several days."

Romulus School Supt. William Bedell made the statement last week following the initial verbal report of the State fact-finding group.

"Our intention is to get a reasonable settlement with everyone so that we can indicate to people what their millage will buy," he said.

"The Board is pledged to restore programs and I'm confident that with the two millage issues and cautious settlements with our employee groups we can restore programs.

"I don't think the people will hurt their children just because they are not sure of the exact amount of settlement," Dr. Bedell concluded.

RAY CANTRELL

Incumbent: Cantrell

I was born in Columbus, Ohio, in 1948 and moved to Michigan shortly after and have been a resident of Michigan and Wayne County for the past 34½ years, 18 of which have been in the City of Romulus.

I went to grade school at a little school on the corner of Inkster and Sibley Road called Hand School. I went to Flat Rock High School for two years and for the remaining two years I went to River Rouge High School where I graduated in 1967.

I attended Wayne County Community College and Eastern Michigan University and have approximately two years of college education.

I served in the army two years, 13 months of which were served in Vietnam.

I started my employment with the City of Romulus in 1975, as a Department of Public Works laborer.

Shortly after being hired as a laborer I was promoted to an equipment operator.

After being employed at the DPW for 8 or 9 months, I was asked by the current mayor at that time, James C. Stewart, to serve as his Purchasing Director for the City of Romulus.

I accepted and served in that position for six years, and appointed two different terms by our current mayor William Oakley.

In 1981, I chose to run for the position of City Clerk. It was obvious the number of problems that existed in this particular office and I thought I could correct those problems.

Regarding community involvement, I have a host of associations that I am a member of, as well as Chairman of the Romulus Election Commission, Chairman of the Romulus Goodfellows, and member of the Romulus Athletic Club which my son participates in.

I am a member of the 15th District Democratic Club in Romulus, past member and president of the Romulus Jaycees. I am also a past member of Teamsters Local 214 and 299.

In 1981, prior to being elected to this what I feel is an important office in the City of Romulus, our goals at that time and my goals at that time were to improve the voter registration procedures.

We have improved the voter registration procedures, by completely updating all the voter registration procedures and issuing all the new voter registration cards to 12,788 Romulus residents.

Another goal was to insure the prompt issuance of business licenses. Accomplishments are, the revenue from the business licenses prior to being elected in 1981 was $7,933. The current revenue exceeds $19,000 a year. This is due to the proper issuance of the business licenses.

Another goal was cost reduction in city insurances. In the past year and a half we have reduced the insurance premiums by $45,000 while increasing the insurance coverages to assure better protection for the citizens of Romulus.

Another goal was the proper handling of cemetery records. One of the first things we did after being elected was to update all the past records and implement procedures of proper handling of the cemetery and we have corrected a number of problems which have existed, and we are still correcting that problem.

Another goal was to implement an accurate record-keeping system. We implemented a microfilm system in the City of Romulus at no additional cost to the Romulus residents. It was purchased with the insurance premiums that were saved over the last two years.

The proficiency ratings for elections by the Board of Canvassers has increased greatly thanks to the instructions that have been given by this office and this staff and the cooperation of the election inspectors of whom we owe a great deal to.

our opinions

Severed relationship Board vs. teachers

Although it may be of the "arranged marriage" variety, Plymouth-Canton administrators and striking school employees have a relationship with each other.

And, because of the overwhelming responsibility of this connection, it's a relationship much more critical than ever.

Now the secret to a successful relationship, any first-year psychology student will tell you, is communication. And the crisis situation that now exists in that relationship, that same student would say, is probably a symptom of a deeper problem, and of a lack of communication that is probably chronic.

Beneath the offers, counter-offers and arguments over the negotiating process itself lies the core of the issue — school employees insist that the board is holding out on paying them wages they deserve, while the board insists, just as vehemently, that the funds aren't there.

Who's right? A more interesting question might be: Now that it's obvious that this critical relationship is comprised more of strangers than partners, in what other areas is this pervasive lack of communication affecting the education of those who both parties serve?

The fact that the strike is the result of months of negotiating efforts doesn't say much for the communication skills of those involved, whatever side of the picket line they're now on.

When communication between the two groups came to a complete halt last week, both sides stopped talking to (but continued talking about) each other via a barrage of separate statements, releases and press conferences.

What resulted was a scene typical of an ailing relationship where constructive arguing has deteriorated into a hurling of irrational accusations and insults, while legitimate concerns become lost in the shuffle.

Lost, too, are lots of parents and kids who want school to start, as we do, and who urge only that the two opponents talk, argue or Indian wrestle their way to a solution.

Since the relationship between the board and unions has reached the ultimate "make up or break up" stage, and since a divorce between two parties who depend on each other for their existence isn't feasible, the only question left seems to be how and when a compromise will be reached.

But an even more important question might be: What kind of educational process (within the educational process) can be established to prevent such a crisis in the future?

License for life

Children and abuse

The world's most precious resource is in jeopardy.

Go get a haircut and the person wielding the scissors has a license earned after a prescribed system of study and proof of competency by a state examination.

It is necessary to have a license to drive a car in an effort to prevent accidents. All drivers must know the rules and follow them or suffer the penalties prescribed by law.

It is necessary to have a license to own a dog — and to obtain that license, owners have to prove that the dog has been physically examined by a veterinarian and inoculated against disease.

It takes official legislation and sanction to catch fish, stalk and kill game, in an effort to protect the animal population from outstripping the natural food supply.

Physicians must obtain a license to practice medicine, nurses must be registered at the state level and the people teaching in our schools must obtain a state sanctioned certificate, proving their competency.

It is necessary to have a permit to add to a home, electricians need licenses and the men who build our cars in many cases are the graduates of apprenticeship programs where they have had to complete years of study to ensure their skills.

Why then is it so easy to have a child? There is nothing required other than the normal biological functions and many children are brought into the world to be mistreated, abused, unloved and in more and more cases, tortured by the very people entrusted with their care and development.

Something seems to be very wrong when the animal control and cruelty laws are enforced with more vigor and enthusiasm in our courts than are the laws protecting the most valuable asset our society has ever known.

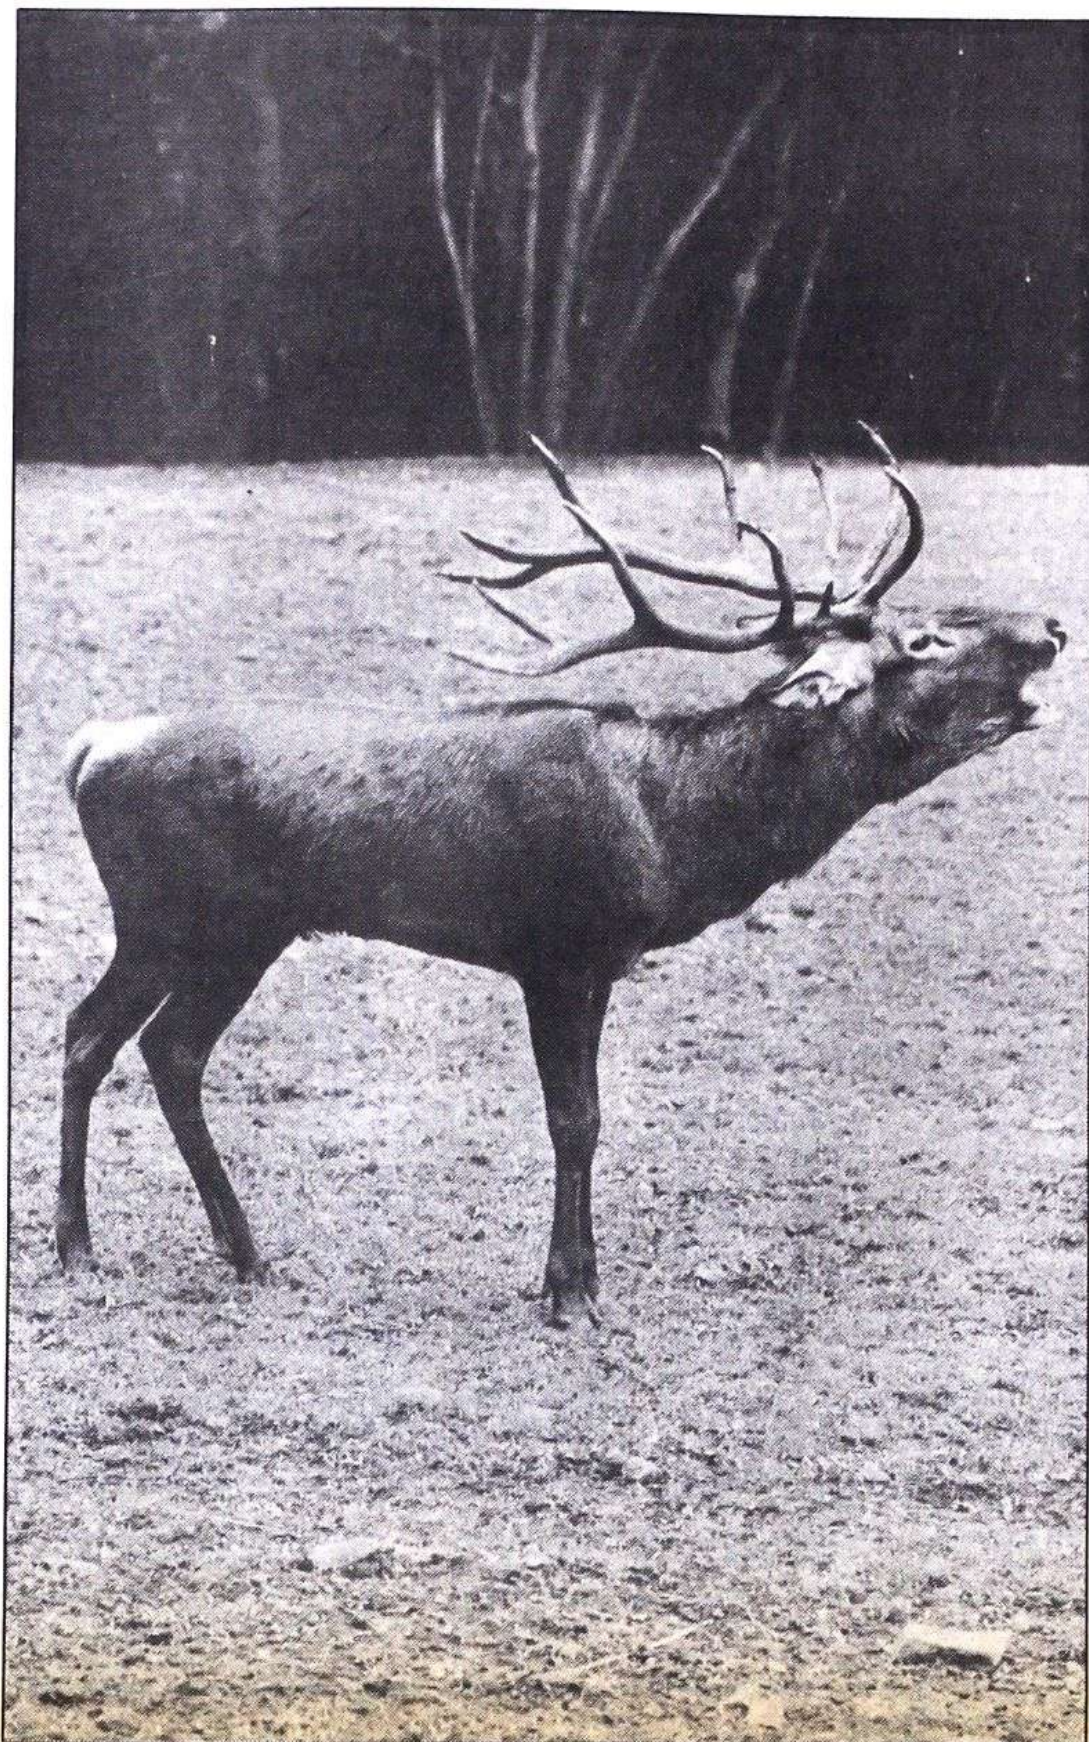

Babies are God's most precious gift. They should never be wasted on immature, uncaring or demented parents who will not treat them as the treasure that they are. When household pets, wild game and fish and home additions are treated with more concern than is the protection of humanity, something is wrong.

Something as inestimable in value as a baby should only be entrusted to the care of those who can prove their ability, worth and intent to nurture and cherish that child.

Any less is a crime.

editorial feedback

From Congress, hope of hospital cost containment

(Editor's Note — Jack Frost, a Belleville resident, mailed a column written by ANP columnist Mona Grigg on the subject of the soaring hospital rates and costs to Washington D.C., and the following feedback is from William D. Ford, (D-Taylor), a veteran member of the House of Representatives.)

Mr. Jack M. Frost
10571 DeWitt Road
Belleville, Michigan 48111
Dear Mr. Frost:

Thank you for your letter regarding hospital cost containment and the copy of the article from the Wayne Eagle. In addition, your letter to House Speaker Tip O'Neill was forwarded to me since I am your elected Representative.

I think that it is clear that hospital costs must be contained.

In 1982, hospital costs increased by 15.8%; while in 1981, these costs increased by 18.7%. It is clear that the use of new technology contributes to increases in hospital costs. Advances in medical technology have made it possible to treat patients with an array of high-cost therapies such as cobalt therapy and computerized tomography (CAT) scanners.

Although such technology increases hospital costs, it also saves lives. Thus, it is difficult to require that such services be limited.

Last March, the Congress took an important step in containing hospital costs in the Medicare system with the adoption of the Social Security Act Amendments of 1983 (Public Law 98-21) which contains an important change in the Medicare payment system.

This change, known as prospective payment, will result in substantial savings for the Medicare system while ensuring that Medicare recipients do not pay more for hospitalization.

Under this provision, hospitals will be paid a designated rate for the care of particular illnesses regardless of the costs incurred by the hospital. This will ensure that hospitals do not perform costly and unnecessary treatments for Medicare recipients. In addition, hospitals are prohibited from billing Medicare beneficiaries for the difference between the hospital's actual costs and the payments from Medicare.

Thus, this system provides a strong incentive for holding down hospital costs.

I do not believe that Medicare costs should be contained by increasing the copayments of Medicare recipients. However, this seems to be the cost control program of the Reagan Administration. In his budget request for Fiscal Year 1984, President Reagan sought cuts of $1.9 billion in the Medicare program. Most of these budget proposals were designed to shift additional costs to beneficiaries for both hospital and physician care. Mr. Reagan also proposed a delay in the date of initial eligibility for Medicare.

You will be pleased to know that the Congress rejected the President's proposed Medicare cuts. When the House passed H. Con. Res. 91, the First Concurrent Resolution on the Budget for Fiscal Year 1984, the only reductions in Medicare were those which result from the prospective payment system of P.L. 98-21. The Conference Report for H. Con. Res. 91 includes additional savings in Medicare of $400 million for FY84, $500 million for FY85, and $800 million in FY86.

However, the Congress directed the appropriate committees to achieve these savings without reducing Medicare benefits or increasing payments by Medicare recipients.

The House Energy and Commerce Subcommittee on Health and the Environment is currently reviewing several methods for reducing overall hospital costs. I am following developments in this Subcommittee and awaiting any legislative proposals which may result from its action.

I appreciate knowing of your interest in this very important matter. Please feel free to contact me again on any other federal issues of concern.

With kind regards, I am

An apple and a screw

Tom Mooradian
Managing Editor

It pays to advertise. No doubt about it. No way, no how can you get a message across unless you use the mass media.

Advertising is a multi-billion dollar business and the experts can work miracles with the visual or graphic or the printed words.

Take, for example, the billboard. All across the country there are billboards. They're used to send the widest range of messages from purchasing certain autos, liquors — you name it, it's up there.

But, sometimes the babble can have a definite detrimental effect. The message, in other words can backfire. Apparently that's what happened when then the Romulus Education Association decided to place a billboard depicting an apple with a screw plunged through its center.

The allegory, for those who have not followed the academic scene in Romulus, was clear. Teachers got the shaft because the board of education last December decided to rollback salaries 22 percent across the board. The school board said the move was an economic necessity. The schools had no other choice.

Like the elephant, the teachers can't forget. At each and every turn they seek retaliation. We can understand their frustration — teachers do have to purchase the necessities, pay their bills, feed their children and buy clothes like everyone else.

The shock of looking at a paycheck that is cut 22 percent can hurt, no one will deny that.

We're also cognizant of the fact that boards of education have only a limited amount of funds to work with in providing children "reasonable education." No faces were probably redder than those board members who had to vote for the rollback.

And it appears that a solution to the problems of our schools is unreachable because, as we all know by now, taxpayers don't want to raise their taxes, and school taxes are about the only tax they can voice their feelings and vent their frustrations.

So where do we go?

To the billboards. But it appears the art in Romulus sent a message that deepened the schism between the community, the teachers and the school administrations. The advertisement has alienated. And residents are "mad".

There is no doubt in the minds of some that the Romulus Education Association's decipherable message to the people of Romulus, the board of education and the school's administration will torpedo all hopes of passage of the pending millage.

It has cost teachers more than they think.

The calls to this desk clearly say that teachers should make no mistake — the November 8 millage will again go down the drain.

Instead of lamenting the present situation, wouldn't it have been far better for the teachers' union to hire an ad firm that could put on the billboard a positive message? A message the teachers would continue to work to solve the problems of the community rather than separate further those who are charged with educating our youth?

Another view of Wayne

EDITOR — I would like to respond to Patrick J. Norton's letter that appeared in last week's edition of The Associated Newspapers. The honorable Mayor of Wayne may laud this fine city, but may I present yet another view.

It was a very interesting letter in as much as it comes before election time this fall. I notice Mr. Norton refers to people living outside of the community who praise our city's progress, but he does not name them. I would like to ask Mr. Norton why he does not refer to people who live here?

Mr. Norton mentions 23 site plans under construction, but I wonder why urban renewal has been going on in Wayne since the 1960's?

Someone told me recently that Wayne has more tax-free buildings than any other city close by. Is that true?

Go into the Mall and look at places that are empty but used to house a business, there are others.

Look at the swimming pool that was not kept up over the years and has let stand empty for 2½ years to rot. Look at a garage facility that stands mostly vacant and certainly not needed by the populace.

There are those who would say that I speak negatively, but I point out that the people have a right to question the actions of any and all elected officials regardless of what their actions are, good or bad.

After all when we come down to it, an election is another method of 'hiring' an employee and employees or if you will, elected people are to serve those they serve, and not selfish interests.

Because a person is elected does not make them above reproach.

Don't overlook Omnicom, Wheels

EDITOR — Shame on us.

In our recent letter to the editor thanking the many organizations, businesses and individuals responsible for making the First Annual Canton Walk for Recreation a success, we goofed by forgetting to mention Omnicom and the Canton Wheels of Michigan square dancers whose support and involvement were instrumental to the success of the event.

We publicly apologize for this oversight.

The Canton Wheels are to be applauded for the entertainment they provided all the walkers, workers and the television exposure will have nothing but a positive effect on the future of the Walk.

We sincerely hope that both Omnicom and the Canton Wheels continue to support the event.

That new roof was wonderful

EDITOR — I would like to take advantage of our local newspaper to thank the people involved in roofing our home.

Little did I realize, in past years when I helped the Belleville Fire Department with their annual tree sales, that I would be benefiting from it in this way.

I sincerely thank all the men on the department, plus my father, brothers-in-law, nephews, sons, and friends, for all their help in making this such a nice gift and a fun day.

I would like to thank Ammerman Lumber Co. for their co-operation, along with the help their employees donated.

Last, but not least, the lovely food and drinks that the Post Office, and my employer, John Brimble of Capt. Nemo's provided for all the workers.

Thank you all, for my nice warm roof but most of all, for the nice warm feeling in our hearts.

Group seeks McCollough recall

EDITOR — Who are the "Recall McCollough" Committee and why are we seeking the recall from office of State Senator Patrick H.

McCollough? We are a non-partisan group of tax-payers from Senator McCollough's District (10th State Senatorial District includes Dearborn, Dearborn Heights, a small portion of Detroit, Garden City, Inkster and Melvindale). We are fed up with elected officials who do not faithfully represent our views in Lansing. We are seeking his recall because he voted for the state income tax increase in March of this year, despite the protests and objections of his constituents.

Senator McCollough has stated that he was convinced that without the tax increase, the state of Michigan would have gone bankrupt. We contend that this argument ignores the fact that there were two ways to avoid bankruptcy, — one was to increase revenues by passing a tax increase, the other alternative was to cut state spending to meet anticipated revenue levels.

As we are all too painfully aware, our legislators chose the former over the latter, a decision which has made legislative jobs easier, since they can not avoid difficult decisions regarding spending cuts. Unfortunately, this ill-advised tax increase places a tremendous burden on the already over-extended taxpayers of this state. Over the past two years, many workers in this area have been forced to accept pay and benefit cuts and reduced working hours, — hence, a loss of income just for the luxury of keeping their jobs. We have had to cut back and we expect the state to do the same.

Numerous formal and informal surveys have consistently indicated that an overwhelming majority of the people in this state were opposed to this increase. Why then do we have it? What is the state of Michigan, if not the people of Michigan? The legislators and governor exist only to serve the people and are not autonomous entities. Our elected officials seem to forget that the taxpayers are their employers. They hold their offices only by our consent and are obliged to follow the direction we provide. Consider the parallel of an employee in the private sector — How long would he or she remain employed if they chose to do the exact opposite of a specific directive given by their supervisor?

There are some additional facts that should be kept in mind when considering whether the tax increase was really necessary to avoid bankruptcy. The additional revenues generated by this increase will result in a budget surplus this year, ranging from $25 million to $200 million or more. The tax increase also prompted the legislature to approve a 12.7% increase in the 1984 fiscal budget. The new budget includes hefty increases for the operation of the governor's office and the legislative body. One would think that if this state were really teetering on the brink of bankruptcy, our elected officials would at least make the symbolic gesture of recinding their pay increases scheduled to take effect January 1, 1984. Our legislators are already the highest paid in the country.

In brief, the issue over whether a recall is appropriate in this case hinges on the questions of whether or not the elected official faithfully represented his constituents. We would contend that in this case, Senator McCollough failed to properly represent our views. If a majority of his constituents agree with our position, then Senator McCollough should and will be recalled. If he voted the will of the majority of his constituents, then he will survive the recall effort.

The point which Senator McCollough and all elected officials should keep in mind is that we, as taxpayers, are tired of being treated like children who do not know what is good for them. We should be able to decide what level of services we can and will pay for. If spending cuts become too painful, then we are responsible enough to ask for restoration of the services and will provide the revenue to pay for them. But, it is up to those of us who are paying the bills to decide on the acceptable level of spending.

As in any grass roots effort of this sort, finding willing and dedicated workers is always the greatest challenge. We have organized a core group of Recall McCollough workers. In 9 days, we have already collected approximately 2300 signatures working toward a goal of 30,000 throughout Senator McCollough's district. We are still in need of additional workers to help circulate petitions and handle the many details of a recall campaign.

Why reintroduce ERA amendment?

The Equal Rights Amendment has been reintroduced in Congress, this despite the fact that there was in no way a consensus in favor. If there had been, it would have been ratified within the original time allotment of 7 years. Even the illegal and immoral 3-year time extension was not enough. The majority of thinking Americans do not want it.

Almost everyone favors equal rights, but the Amendment, as written without any protective amendments tied to it, would take away many of the rights and protections now enjoyed by women, especially wives. It would invalidate all the states' laws obligating the husband to support his wife. The laws are fundamental to the institution of the family, and when the family unit is not stable, the nation is in trouble.

Why are the ERA proponents so determined to pass an ERA without any of the protective amendments?

What are the hidden results of this so-called panacea for women?

(1) No deferment would be possible for women in a draft for compulsory military training or in combat duty.

(2) No state laws could prohibit homosexual marriages and parenting adopted children.

(3) No state laws could prohibit abortion on any ground or federal funding of abortions.

(4) No women could collect their husband's Social Security benefits.

(5) All of society would be treated gender free or as a unisex society.

(6) No local or state laws could in any way conflict with this constitutional amendment.

The last point is especially frightening — all interpretation of the Amendment would be at the federal level. Gone would be our states' rights, the fundamental backbone of our representative government.

reflections

Picket lines and teachers

In some areas, teachers are striking again. A long time ago I wrote how I felt that there is something morally wrong about teachers striking. Before my teacher friends get their dander up and begin picketing my house, let me hasten to say that I am not going to argue whether they are right or wrong.

I am not going to even discuss the issues at stake. But like I said a long time ago, there is something about a teacher striking that stabs the American dream of Mother and apple pie and the smell of Fels-Naptha soap, and the little old-maid school teacher who aspired you to heights you never dreamed attainable.

It hurts the spirit.

I vividly remember a teacher I had when I was in the first grade. She wasn't much taller than I and she always wore a black skirt with a white starched blouse.

She carried her lunch in a peanut butter bucket and during lunch hour on rainy days she sat in the cloakroom on the tiny chairs and told stories. She had a wondrous laugh and she used to trade sandwiches with us.

We didn't have a piano in our classroom, but she did have a harmonica and she used to jump on her chair so that we could see her better and we used to have some rousing song-fests.

One time I stood in agony at the blackboard trying to get the answer to a most difficult problem, like five plus three. Finally she said, "Joyce, are you saying you can't get the answer?" I nodded in a most miserable way.

"Well," she said, "Try saying I can get the answer... I know I can." And I did.

One late afternoon as I was waiting for my mother to pick me up, my teacher put her arms around me and drew me to her. I can still remember the crunching sound of her starched blouse as it crinkled under my heavy head, and the smell of talcum powder can still take me back to that day.

As she brushed her hair back from my forehead she said, "I'm so happy that since God felt I didn't need any children of my own, He made certain I was surrounded by beautiful little girls."

Somehow, I rather doubt that my grandchildren's teachers feel they were placed in the schoolroom by God. If that little teacher were living today it would be rather difficult to conceive of her carrying a placard on the picket line.

But then as one teacher-friend said to me one day, "Dedication and a dime will buy just one cup of coffee."

Well, I can't bake apple pie either.

polluters and for the chemical companies and railroads and coal companies, but the guy who is in there as Secretary of the Interior ought to be looking out for the people, for species and wildlife and rivers."

So...here's a thought: Maybe the trouble with Watt was that nobody ever gave him a job description. Maybe, since he didn't know that the whole country wouldn't find his final joke very funny, there were a lot of things he didn't know. Maybe he didn't know what a Secretary of the Interior was supposed to do.

So, instead of getting rid of him — and risking the very real possibility of replacement with a clone — we should have insisted that Watt commit to memory the duties of the Secretary of the Interior — and if we had to, abhorrent to our sensibilities as it may have been (heh, heh), we should have kept slapping his little hand until he got it right.

mona grigg

Watt should have what? Stayed?

In the wildest wanderings of my mind, I'd never have dreamed I'd be saying the words I'm about to say — but, mercy me, I'm saying them:

I wish James Watt hadn't resigned.

I will add to that, before you think that this is not me talking: At least, not yet.

As I write this, it is less than 24 hours since Interior Secretary Watt, rather than risk congressional repudiation, handed in his resignation. There was a great outcry for Watt to have the "decency" to resign.

"I'm having a real battle with my fingertips here, forcing them to type this, but I wish, instead, that he had had the "decency" to stay.

Let me explain: With Watt leaving now, it will have been for one reason, and one reason only: Because he made the incredibly stupid (but, for him, fairly predictable) remark about "a black, a woman, two Jews and a cripple" being on his coal commission.

In the ensuing hoopla over his forced departure, I wonder — will we be inclined to remember only that it was ultimately brought about by a few really dumb words?

Will we remember only that he was grinning like some jerky schoolkid when he said them, indicating that he was supremely confident (even in the face of overwhelming evidence to the contrary) that the rest of the country would think it was pretty funny, too?

Or will we be inclined to remember, as we should, that those few ill-chosen words were simply the straw that finally did it — and that the outrageous abuse of power while the man held the office of "protector" of the earth and water of this country is what really prompted the "better-late-than-never" action finally taken?

There's the kicker — three outrageous abuse of that power is what should have sent James Watt flying — not the few ill-chosen words of a silly schoolkid. The powers-that-he owed it to this Watt-ravaged country to get rid of him for the right reasons.

And the "right reasons" for getting rid of him were, ironically, the same reasons for which he was apparently chosen in the first place:

• Watt has admitted, time and time again, that his goal was to get rid of the "elite" environmentalists who claim there is a consensus in this country that conservation and preservation have to go hand-in-hand with development and consumption of natural resources. He called the "consensus" a phony one invented by "pseudo-intellectuals" and a left-wing cult.

• Watt had the audacity to promise — apparently without fear of retribution — to promote the "exploitation" of public resources by private enterprise in order to right past wrongs done by the "hard-core preservationists" and "militant environmentalists." He would do this, he announced, by "using the budget system to be the excuse to make major policy decisions."

• As Morris Udall, Chairman of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, says, "(Watt) cleverly and deliberately has undertaken to water down some of the laws and to weaken regulations that ought to be kept strong. There are plenty of people sticking up for the

WHEREAS working women constitute almost 47 million of the Nation's working force and are constantly striving to serve their communities, their states and their nation in civic and cultural programs, and

WHEREAS major goals of business and professional women are to help create better conditions for business women through the study of social, educational, economic and political problems; to help them be of greater service to their community; to further friendship with women throughout the world, and

WHEREAS all of us are proud of their leadership in these many fields of endeavor,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, JUSTIN EMERSON, Mayor of the City of Belleville by the authority vested in me do hereby proclaim October 16-22 as National Business Women's Week.

Belleville BPW plans activities for October

A fall atmosphere prevailed at the monthly dinner meeting of the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club Oct. 3. The women of the Faith United Methodist Church of Denton prepared a harvest dinner for members and guests.

Bonnie Pavlat's students at Quirk School drew and colored orange placemats with autumnal scenes. Oak leaves, acorns, colorful gourds and small pumpkins decorated the dinner tables.

Guests for the meeting included Dorothy Beecher and Dorothy Wilson of the Ann Arbor BPW Club; Ruth Baehr's daughter, Nancy Abbe, of Ann Arbor; Dr. Antonette Schiesler, member of the Van Buren Board of Education, who was a guest of Laverne Finley. On hand to honor, Gwen Ashe, the club's Woman of the Year, were her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wishert and Penny and Frank Ashe.

Musicians Clara and Art Walker came to present a musical tribute to Gwen Clara, a talented harpist, played several selections and then accompanied her husband who sang the "Sound of Music" and dedicated it to Gwen.

The business session included arrangements for the Belleville Community Blood Drive on Oct. 31 in the B.H.S. Auditorium foyer.

Details were outlined for National Business Women's Week, Oct. 16-22. Members will attend 8:00 a.m., Mass at St. Anthony's Catholic Church in a group and have breakfast together afterwards at the Brass Belle.

Final plans were announced for the District XIII fall meeting which was held Oct. 5 at the Park Place in Dearborn. The Belleville Club played hostess for the 85-member gathering.

On Oct. 20 at the Fairlane Manor in Dearborn, the Women's Hall of Fame Banquet will be held to honor outstanding women in the area.

Following the business meeting, Sue Morrison, fashion specialist of Casual Corners at Briarwood Mall, presented fashions for working women. BPW members Connie Stoelton, Laverne Finley, Sharon Collins and Vira McGrane modeled the fall suits and separates.

Morrow-Cornell vows read in home ceremony

A garden wedding, with the ceremony being held on the deck of her parents home, united in marriage Deborah Ann Cornell, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter M. Cornell of South Biggs Street, Belleville, and David Charles Morrow of Church Street, Belleville, the son of Albert Morrow of Wayne and Mrs. Mary Morrow of Westland.

Some 60 guests witnessed the double ring rite performed Sept. 4 by The Rev. David A. Cornell of Grand Rapids, uncle of the bride.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was gowned in candlelight lace and satin, the bodice being designed with a Victorian neckline enhanced by a deep lace ruffle which capped the long sheer sleeves. The floor-length skirt was comprised of tiers of matching ruffles.

She pinned an antique cameo brooch, belonging to her godmother Christine Sullivan of Dearborn, to her gown, tucked fresh carnations and baby's breath in her hair and carried a bouquet of candlelight carnations, mums, baby's breath and pale blue carnations.

Denise Colleen Cornell of Belleville was her sister's honor attendant in a blue and white dotted swiss gown accessorized by a bouquet of blue and white carnations and mums and a headdress similar to the bride's. Donald Dean Odom of Belleville served as best man.

Also in the bridal party was the bride's 7-year-old sister, Jennifer Erin Cornell, who was flower girl in a little frock embellished with white hearts. The basket she held was filled with blue and white daisies.

At the reception which followed at the Tin Lizzie in Belleville, the bride's mother greeted the 60 guests in a blue crepe street-length dress to which she added her corsage of yellow carnations and baby's breath.

Red and white carnations were worn on the red dress which the bridegroom's mother chose for the occasion.

Among those attending were the bride's grandparents, Mrs. Marie Cornell of Holland, MI. and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Krakowiak of Belleville and also a great-aunt, Mrs. Vera Palmer of South Haven.

A 1982 graduate of Belleville High School, the new Mrs. Morrow is currently attending Wayne County Community College while employed at Van Buren Convalescent Center.

Her husband, who attended Wayne and Belleville High Schools, was, prior to lay-off, an employee of Wayne County Intermediate Schools.

Sign up now to donate blood

Monday, Oct. 31—Halloween—is an important date for all of us! It signals the Annual Blood Drive in the Belleville-Van Buren Community, which will be held at the Belleville High School Auditorium.

Once again the Belleville Business and Professional Women's Club (BPW) is joining the Red Cross in an effort to help meet the blood needs of our community by sponsoring a bloodmobile visit from 2 to 7:45 p.m.

The goal of the sponsors—at least 200 pints—can be easily met if everyone takes just an hour of time to donate. The importance of donations cannot be stressed often enough. Blood is a lifesaving substance available only through our donations. Please help provide an adequate supply for those who might need it in this area. Sign up now to give!

Past donors will be called for appointments and later sent postal cards as reminders. But new donors are always needed and most welcome. Please call Ruth Pollard at 697-7292 or Bonnie Pavlat at 483-4562 to volunteer.

Remember, the Red Cross doesn't need Blood—people do!!

Mother's Day, Father's Day, Sweetest Day and, of late, Grandparents Day and Mother-in-law's Day, all have something in common—a message—and not of the Hallmark variety.

They all state, quite sadly, that we Americans need special days to remind us there are such people in our lives. Why was it necessary some 70 years ago for Anna Jarvis to crusade for a special day to honor our mothers? Because, despite the fact she was very devoted to her own mother and wanted to honor her memory, she saw others around her who were completely oblivious and uncaring about one of the most important people in their lives.

Wouldn't she rise from her grave if she knew that today pickles get a whole week of recognition or that dairys rate an entire month?

The subject came to mind as I began noticing second-Saturday-in-October "hints"—Russell Stove chocolates embraced with extra cellophane bands proclaiming the momentous occasion and florist shops dressed in banners with the same pronouncement.

I'm not knocking candy and flowers—I ADORE them—but why must our affections, our thoughts of each other, our nice little gestures be relegated to a single day; why aren't they geared to daily consideration and mindful, loving acts without commercial tactics? been extra "considerations" over the years (if we happened to re-

Admittedly, at our house we are into those May-June days for moms and dads; they've always been observed as religiously as birthdays and anniversaries. We've enjoyed them, too, never found them to be a burden and, with all four of our parents now gone, are mighty glad we did get to honor them with a bit more fanfare at those times.

When Grandparents Day was given the green light, however, we agreed (with the parents of our grandson) to veto the "occasion" and not play the game devised by the get-'em-to-buy promoters. Ditto with Mother-in-law's Day!

So—how 'bout that upcoming October 15 observance? Although it's never been treated as a "must" event at our house, there have been extra "considerations" over the years (if we happened to remember it was "that date.") I might struggle with a made-from-scratch pie as a surprise for a certain lemon meringue lover and he might come back from his Saturday morning coffee-with-the-fellas carrying a white sack with cream-filled donuts or a napkin-covered plate bearing a hot cinnamon roll (stuff like that.)

And if either or both of us forget entirely, so what? There are those other times when an impromptu armful of gladiolas or a pan of apple dumplings a "bouquet" of pussywillows or batch of homemade bleu cheese dressing have said it all.

As for boxes of Lady Godiva's or Fanny May's, they're wonderful, but a Snickers 6-pack or Reese's duet can get a message across twice as clearly on a no-designation afternoon.

"Guess what I've got for you, dear?"—be it a mere pint of raspberries, a pair of golf socks, some pretty new-issue stamps, an interesting book from the library—is an opening statement that should need no time or date for being voiced.

If you're guilty of neglect—taking that special someone for granted—then perhaps a rubber-stamped observance is necessary. At least your guy or gal will get some kind of appreciation. T'aint always a must to "say it with flowers" either. Be original, think of the dozens of different ways to say, "Hey, I kinda like you."

What about a let's-drink-in-the-colors picnic that you Toms, Dicks and Harrys get together? There's little effort to chilling a bottle of wine and choosing some crusty bread, cheese and fruit or, if you really want to impress her, there are lots of places that'll put a lunch together for you. No excuses, right?

A free concert in the park or a shopping mall (Briarwood has 'em regularly); a joint cooking class—a one-nighter; a movie and big tub of popcorn on a Tuesday evening—dollar night at many A.A. theaters; a canoe ride through the multi-colored banks of a local river; an autumnal drive on "the outskirts" with a stop for apples and cider and perhaps a pot of mums; a walk which takes you for a panoramic view of a gorgeous October sunset. There are so many ways to say "I'm sure glad I have you to share this with."

If you love that guy or gal who's supposedly Number One in your life, remember it's those 364 OTHER days of the year that really count.

THEY DID IT FIRST

- The first licensed woman pilot was Baroness Raymonde de la Roche who learned to fly in 1909.
- The first United States coast to coast airplane flight was completed in 1911. It took 49 days (with stops.)
- The first woman to fly in a balloon was Madame Thible, a French opera singer, who warbled her way skyward on June 4, 1784.
- When Howard Hughes bought RKO Pictures in 1954, he became the first individual to become the sole owner of a major motion picture company. He paid $23,489,478 for the privilege.
- In 1675 engraver Jean Papillon became the first person to print wallpaper in matching, continuous patterns.
- Although Theodore Roosevelt was the first U. S. President to have flown in a plane, Franklin Delano Roosevelt was the first to do so while in office. He flew from Miami to Casablanca in 1943 to confer with Winston Churchill.
- "Teddy" chucked up another first on Aug. 22, 1902 when he became the first U. S. President to ride in an automobile. He rode through Hartford, Conn. in a purple-lined Columbia Electric Victoria.

TOUCHE' SON!

Son: "Here's my report card, Dad, along with one of your old ones I found in the attic."

Father: "Well, son, you're right. This old report card of mine isn't any better than yours. I guess the only fair thing to do is give you what my father gave me."

THE BOTTOM LINE: It's hard to beat the joy of having someone accidentally discover a good deed you have done.

Low sodium chicken entrees

Agrowing number of health-conscious Americans, particularly those on low-sodium diets, are finding it isn't necessary to sacrifice taste for low-sodium meals.

Chicken, for example, can be the basis for many delicious low-sodium entrees, when seasoned with spices and prepared with fresh vegetables. Unsalted nuts are also ideal flavor enhancers. They are high in protein, vitamins and minerals, and impart a special taste and texture to a variety of chicken dishes.

Nutty Baked Chicken, made with Planters® Unsalted Peanuts, oregano and garlic is quick and easy to prepare for casual family dinners or summer weekend picnics.

Special dinner guests will enjoy Nutty Stuffed Chicken Breasts, made with Planters® Unsalted Mixed Nuts, carrots, onions and low-fat mozzarella cheese.

Short subjects

• Fall is here along with the changing leaves and color tours. Driving through the countryside, you'll probably see some cows. In order to save you counting them, the official figure is about 11 million nationally or one cow for every 20 people. Four hundred and three thousand of them are in Michigan!

• Juicy apples are everyone's favorite and October is the month for them. Serve them in slices along with a good selection of Michigan cheeses as a dinner appetizer and remember that an apple and plenty of cheese makes any football game picnic-lunch extra special.

• Mix and match is the word in fashion this season and the principle works as well with fruit and yogurt. This low-cal dairy food comes in a variety of flavors to try with matching fruits or to mix with different ones. Try peach yogurt with peaches or apple yogurt with plums; bananas go with orange yogurt. Every combination is a winner!

• Radish roses add a colorful personal touch to party dishes. Cut off the root and slice sides toward the stem to make four petals. Or, slash radish crosswise in very thin slices, not cutting all the way through, for an accordion look.

• Trick or treating is thirsty work, so have plenty of chocolate milk ready for the goblins who visit.

Warm it and top it with whipped cream or pour it from the carton, refrigerator-cold to have with donuts.

• Diet tip: Stir the liquid from your favorite canned fruit into creamy fresh cottage cheese. Use the fruit in a low calorie style gelatin and combine the cottage cheese and gelatin for a filling lunch or supper.

Eggs can enhance fall get-togethers

What's fall? It's one occasion after another! And, most often those occasions are accompanied by hearty appetites. What's the easiest way to get through this hectic season? Let eggs enhance your fall occasions.

First of all, consider the morning rush. If there's no time for the usual fried, poached or scrambled family breakfast, just pop an egg per person into the blender along with a cup of milk or your family's favorite juice. Add a dash of honey, if you like, and quick as a wink, you've got breakfast on the run!

Eggs can help, too, when the morning rush leaves no time to make lunches. For a quickly assembled, but nutritious, brown-bag lunch, tuck in two hard-cooked eggs accompanied by a small envelope of a favorite herb or seasoned salt. Right after dinner the night before is a good time to put together make-ahead lunches. Why not toss together an egg salad? It will travel well packed in thermal containers. So will a deviled egg mixture. Add a plastic fork to the bag so the luncher can fill the egg whites with the yolk mixture on the spot.

Eggs make quick and easy snacks, too! For morning, after school, midnight or whenever the hungries strike, spread a small cheese slice with mayonnaise and sandwich it between halves of a hard-cooked egg. For added nutrition, add an egg to your favorite blender shake. As the weather gets cooler, make a cup of hot cocoa more hearty by stirring it into a well-beaten egg. Top with a sprinkle of cinnamon.

The fall season seems to involve get-togethers galore from homework sessions, the sock-hop committee, weekly meetings of Scouts or Indian Guides, to pajama parties, after-the-game parties and you-name-it. The age groups may run the gamut, but eggs know no age barriers. For dieting teens, add some hard-cooked eggs to the usual dip and serve it with sliced raw veggies. Suit younger kids by stirring a dollop of peanut butter into their egg salad.

Moppets through middle-agers (and beyond) enjoy pizza. For a nutritious, quick-fix version, spread split English muffins with canned pizza sauce, add sliced hard-cooked eggs, top with shredded cheese and pop under the broiler. With such good goodies, you may find your house the most popular meeting place in town.

Spontaneous gatherings are often the most fun. Take a few eggs, raid the refrigerator for leftovers and create a delicious scramble, frittata or omelet. If the crowd is sizeable, set out a variety of fillings and turn the event into a do-it-yourself omelet party.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT
By John Brimble

Add crunch to salad with sliced water chestnuts or julienne'd jicama, a new exotic vegetable.

Smart weight-conscious cooks take skin off chicken before cooking — and the REALLY smart ones use a paper towel to make the job easier (it grabs better than plain fingers do). Sprinkle with lemon juice, go easy or eliminate the salt.

Shopping tip: vacuum-packed meats may look a little darker than regular meat in the display case. When package is opened, oxygen will return color to normal.

Easy dessert: roll scoops of ice cream in granola, pressing the cereal into the ice cream. Freeze until firm. Before serving, drizzle a little honey over the top.

Easy meal for the family: treat them to dinner at Capt. Nemo's Sub Sandwiches.

Dorothy Rush

Romulus resident named U.F. chairman

Romulus resident Dorothy Rush, president of Markenwal Limited, will serve as the west unit individual solicitation chairman for the United Foundation 1983 Torch Drive.

The announcement was made by Thomas F. Russell, chairman and chief executive officer of Federal-Mogul Corporation and general chairman of this year's fund raising campaign.

The west unit is part of the community campaigns which solicit small business and offices and individual givers throughout the tri-county area.

The high rate of unemployment, government cutbacks to certain social service agencies and the increased cost of providing services have contributed to the pressing human needs of the tri-county community. This year's Torch Drive volunteer team will be asking for increased contributions to help maintain the present level of support for these services.

The reporting phase of the 35th annual Torch Drive will run from October 17 through November 10. The United Foundation Torch Drive helps provide operating funds to 136 charitable organizations in the tri-county area.

100th victory

Glenn is perfect for Homecoming crowd

One hundred...a magic number in sports: 100 RBIs in baseball; 100 points in basketball and 100 yards in football.

The Rockets of Westland John Glenn found out just how magical that particular number is last Friday night as they defeated a stubborn Redford Thurston squad, 38-0, before a standing-room-only Homecoming crowd at Glenn's Kionka Field.

The victory over Thurston represented the 100th victory in the school's 20-year football history and also was their fifth straight Homecoming victory.

But, more importantly, the victory raised Glenn's over-all record to 4-1, (3-0 in the Northwest Suburban League). The Rockets are now tied for first place in the league with North Farmington, next Saturday's opponent.

Coach Chuck Gordon, who has coached 42 of those 100 victories, was pleased with the win.

"A good win because it was Homecoming. We played pretty well and had a chance to play every player."

Thurston, now 1-4 on the season, did not resemble the Thurston teams of the past. Under new coach John Switchenko, the Eagles have played good football and certainly earned the respect of the Rockets. Coach Gordon gave his respect to the Eagles saying, "They're better than they've been for some time. They play hard to the end. They never quit."

Thurston began the game with Brian McGrath (6-1, 180, Sr.) running the ball well for the Eagles but after six plays, the Eagles were forced to punt.

After a 25-yard return by Doug Corbeil, the Rockets moved the ball crisply down the field. Tony Boles and Tom Forchione took turns running the ball until, with 5:33 left, Boles capped the drive with a four-yard run for the score, his fifth of the season. Chris Piazza hit the extra point and Glenn led, 7-0.

Another milestone

Getting all wound up for action is Westland John Glenn's defensive back and wide receiver, Ron Taig (22) who gets some last second directions from head coach Chuck Gordon. Gordon and the Rockets pleased a Homecoming crowd Friday night with a lopsided victory over Thurston, the school's 100th football triumph.

Belleville blows opportunity to beat ailing Bruins in OT

It's back to the drawing board for Coach Michael Colletta and the Belleville Tigers after their disastrous overtime defeat at the hands of Wyandotte.

The Bruins, with a lot of muscle, pulled out a 20-17 victory over Colletta's Tigers, leaving the local gridders with a 1-2 Wolverine "A" Conference football record and a 2-3 over-all mark.

"We're going to have to play much better Friday night than we did against Wyandotte to beat Lincoln park," warned Colletta.

"Lincoln Park is another one of those teams whose record (1-4) is deceptive. They lost to Fordson (6-0) in the last minutes of the game."

Colletta was disappointed at his team's defensive effort against the Bruins who capitalized on a couple of crucial Tiger miscues to win their first game of the campaign.

In the opening quarter they pounced on a quarterback-center exchange to score their first touchdown. Belleville was placed in the precarious position when a Bruin's punt rolled dead on the Tiger one-yard line. On the

'We can't afford to make mistakes against any team in this league.'

Michael Colletta, Belleville coach

second play from scrimmage, Belleville fumbled and Wyandotte recovered in the endzone for the TD. The Bruins went for two and that play dissipated.

Belleville erupted for 14 unanswered points in the second quarter as Leonard Armstrong scored from the one after a 65-yard sustained drive. Armstrong set up the first TD with a 45-yard run.

Ken Krug then kicked his first of two point-after.

Leonard's younger brother, Billy, got into the scoring act as he dazzled spectators with a superb 78-yard touchdown run with 1:08 left in the half. The Tigers led 14-6 at intermission.

Wyandotte came back after the half and tied the score at 14-all thanks to a Steven Pente 6-yard TD run. Quarterback Bob Urbanic then teamed with Bob Ballard on a pitchout that netted the previously winless club the two-point conversion.

The knot remained untampered with until the overtime when Belleville got a 29-yard field goal from Krug to give them an ephemeral 17-14 lead. On the first series of their plays in the overtime, the Bruins struck back with Pente who plowed through the Tiger line for a 10-yard score.

Colletta pointed out that his team missed some early scoring opportunities. In the first period, Mike Sprau picked off a Urbanic pass on the Tiger 45-yard line and wandered down to the Bruins' 7-yard line before he was caught. The Tigers failed to go the remaining distance and Krug tried a 24-yard field goal and missed the upright. And, if you take away the six-pointer that the Tigers spotted Wyandotte in the first quarter, Belleville should have sewed up the second win.

"We can't afford to make mistakes against any team in this league," Colletta added. "It's just one heck of a football league and we have to realize that each week the opposition is going to be tough."

Armstrong led all rushers with 131 yards on 19 tries and brother Billy turned in with 92 yards on 11 carries. Bob Courter attempted nine passes and connected on two, both catches by Brian Schubert for a total of 44 yards.

Wyandotte amassed 14 first downs and a total of 283 yards, while Belleville had nine first downs and 289 yards.

Belleville's Tiger Swim Club is putting together a team for the fall-winter league and if young swimmers, ages five and up to 18, are interested they should contact Nancy Sobolewski at 699-5456. The Tigers dominated the summer competition and above the 9-10 age group medley relay team of Kaye Ann Pappas, Maria Ferrara, Heather Dickerson and Pam Logan are brushing up for competition.

the second-half kickoff and moved the ball 70 yards in eight plays to score. Boles, who tallied 88 yards on the evening, and Thornton took turns running the ball to the Eagles' 38-yard line. It was here that Hawley took the snap from center, stepped back into the pocket, and fired a pass downfield to John McKolay (Sr., 5-10, 171). McKolay caught the ball and fell backwards on the 8-yard line for a first down. On the next play, Thornton took the ball and ran it in for the score giving the Rockets a 27-0 lead. The extra point by Piazza made it 28-0 at the 8:29 mark of the third quarter.

The Rockets' defense, described by Gordon as "giving a great effort and playing good team defense," thwarted the Eagles twice. Shortly before the end of the third period, Jim Jakary (Sr., 5-11, 173) recovered a fumbled Thurston punt on the Eagle 10-yard line. The Eagles defense prevented a Rocket touchdown but Piazza booted a 22-yard field goal, his fourth of the season, to boost the Rockets' lead to 31-0.

The fourth quarter saw Gordon use every player on the roster as his defense sought to preserve the team's second shutout of the season. Mike Oaks (Jr., 5-10, 141) saved one possible score with a key tackle and Gary Stersic (Jr., 5-8, 137) closed out the game with an interception at the 5-yard line.

The Rockets did add one final touchdown when Cass Simpson performed a feat that had not been done in four years for the Rockets: intercept a pass and score a touchdown. Simpson picked off a pass at the 40-yard line and raced into the end zone, virtually untouched. The last

Confrontation ahead

Leaving a pair of Thurston would-be tacklers in his wake, Glenn's Derick Genovese (10) glances over at an Eagle defender as he picks up valuable ground. Glenn easily disposed of their Homecoming rivals, but has a confrontation on Saturday at North Farmington, a team which shares the Northwest Suburban lead with the Westlanders.

Rocket to perform the feat was Greg O'Neil in 1979.

Piazza's fifth extra point of the night made it 38-0 and effectively put the game on ice.

The Rockets and Coach Chuck Gordon would certainly like to put themselves in the driver's seat for the league title next Saturday when they take on old nemesis North Farmington Saturday at 2 at North.

But the Rockets do have their work cut out for them. Gordon has utmost respect for North, saying, "they're a typical North team. They're well-coached and have good talent. We'll have to play our best game to beat them."

The Junior Varsity Rockets

suffered their first loss of the season, 34-21, to Dearborn Edsel Ford last Thursday despite 209 yards passing by Steve Irwin and a 73-yard TD pass reception by Chuck Hammontree.

Late-starting Wayne wins 2 swim meets

After a late start due to repairs to the swimming pool, Wayne Memorial tankers breezed past Lincoln Park, 122-47, to open up the inaugural Wolverine "A" Conference swim campaign with an impressive victory.

Then, Coach Jim McPartlin's Zebras eked out a close 44-39 victory over always tough Fordson to post their second straight league triumph.

Unable to host their first four meets because of repairs to the pool, Coach McPartlin said that he will try to reschedule the meets if the teams can find open dates.

Against Fordson, Wayne's 1-2 combination of Wendy Gardner (1:12.7) and Lisa Jaquette (1:14.8) in the 100-yard backstroke and the first-second finishes of Dawn Walls (1:20.8) and Cady Sharneski (1:23.8) in the 100-yard breaststroke clinched the victory for the Zebras.

Wayne received an outstanding effort from Shelly Conley in the 50 and 100-yard freestyles which she tucked away in times of 27.2 and 1:00.8, respectively.

Wayne had garnered eight first places including two by Kim Tilley who claimed the 100-yard freestyle (2:17.3) and the 100-yard butterfly (1:11.5) in the L.P. meet. Conley swept both the 50 and 100-yard freestyle.

Belleville will be at Wayne Thursday night at 7 for the first conference meeting ever between the two schools.

By JIM WRUBLEWSKI

I spent a few hours watching some bowlers competing in the 700 tournament at Westland Bowl this past weekend and was reminded of how goal oriented we are when we bowl. As we step onto the approach our target may be a high game, a higher average, or one of the series plateaus. Whatever it may be and whether its done consciously or not, a goal has been selected and is now the center of our attention.

That is the way it was for Tim Gardella Sunday. Tim entered the tournament hoping to score well enough to make the prize list and he started with an acceptable 206 game. Early in the second game things started improving and the strikes spread their way across the scoreboard for a 259 game. Now it gets interesting. With a 600 total locked up Tim started looking for a really good total for the tournament and then realized there is another target that is reachable — a 700 series. You could see the change in Tim's attitude — see the concentration take over as he tried to put those 2 and 3 baggers on the scoresheet for the 235 or better he needed to reach that goal.

The tournament wasn't forgotten but you could tell where Tim's priorities were. A 700 series is definitely something to be proud of but for the rest of us there are other goals out there. Breaking the 400, 500, or 600 series marks for the first time, or for that matter, the second or third time is an accomplishment that brings us back time after time.

For Tim, the concentration paid off as he finished with 237 for 702. For the rest of us — well — let's just keep plugging along.

At SuperBowl, Marge Morgan achieved one type of goal when she hit 243 and 583 to edge past her husband, Rich, with his 233 game but fell just short of his 587 total. In other scoring Jim Jakubowski had 251 for 668; Cindy Hoad rolled 209 and 205 for 578; Elaine Brow hit a 214; Shirley Henning 207; and Renee Keppen 201.

Senior citizen Bob Wooley had an enjoyable outing when he hit 220; Martin Jones had 215; Norm Drayton a 217; and Ed Mach totalled 596.

Westland Bowl added to the ranks of 700 shooters as young, lefthanded, Chris Tilli dominated the 1-2 pocket for games of 259 and 279 for a 737 total. Keith Swafford followed closely with 248 and 277 for 710; Jim Mijal had 235 and 258 for 690; Tim Gardella a 278 and 680; and Bob Brown finished with 226-245 and 664.

Judy Susko paced the ladies on games of 220-222 for 629; Freida Blalock hit 246; Barb Galbrieth a 232 and 577; and Marily Vihonsky rolled 208 and 207 for 581.

Fiesta Lanes scoring was paced by the ladies as Nancy Waldron went well over the 1326 avg. on games of 213 and 243 for a 586 series. Rita Gracy was next in line with a 223 game.

Lodge Lanes also contributed to the 700 series list with Bob "Jaws" Jawor hitting 741; Gerald Gerbst rolled a pair of 257's for 727; Ron Rajda had a 268 game; Walt Crawford a 662 series; Debbie Mullins reported this season's first triplicate a 128; Mary Beck had a 200 game and 574 total; and in the senior citizen circuit John Fogliatti hit 214 for 569 and Faye Ferguson rolled a 174.

Wayne Bowl's highlights included steady shooting by both Roger Cowell with a 694 series and Dave Campbell a 654 total; Jerry Hollins shot 259; John Williams 251; and Lionel McGinnis had a 249 game.

Es Dobozy continued to dominate the scoring at Town N' Country Lanes by rolling a 277 game for a 723 series. Es left a ten pin after 9 in a row to just edge past Terry Driscoll's 715 total. Terry's scoring included games of 222, 248, and 245; Matt Laich hit 256 on his way to 661; John Przywara had 235 and 644; Al Gord 226 and 644; and Don Kingery hit 244 for 634.

Ken Childer's rolled a new lifetime high of 735 on games of 255-245-235; Tom Wilmot rolled 257 for 668; Bob Vojtkofsky had 246 for 643; Don Holtzman totalled 627 with games of 225 and 227; and 149 avg. Ellis Lange rolled a respectable 241 for 563.

The ladies were paced by Del MacCallum with a 595 series; Mary Jo Ball followed closely with a 590; Ageness Pyska hit 247; Donna Trost 225 and 537; Carol Wood had 580; and Cindy Harleton finished with 211 and 544 to conclude this week's scoring highlights.

Ford accepting nominations for academy

Congressman William D. Ford (D-Taylor) today announced Dec. 1, 1983, as his deadline for accepting academy applications from qualified young men and women of the 15th Congressional District.

Application forms and full information may be obtained by writing or calling Congressman Ford at 3716 Newberry, Wayne, Michigan 48184 (313/722-1411).

Nominations will be available for the 1988 graduating class of the Military (West Point), Naval, Air Force and Merchant Marines Academies. Applicants must be at least 17 years old, but not have reached the age of 22 by July 1, 1984, United States Citizens, unmarried, not pregnant or have child support obligations, and have residence in the 15th Congressional District.

"In addition to these basic requirements, my nominations are based upon a strong academic record, SAT and/or ACT scores, extra-curricular activities, and the recommendations of principals, counselors, high school teachers and coaches," Congressman Ford said.

Once nominated, all nominees must pass competitive examinations given by the various Academies. Final selection for admission will be made in the spring of 1984.

"I look forward again this year to sending the best young men and women to the Service Academies as representatives of the 15th Congressional District and urge those seriously considering a career in the service to contact my office as soon as possible," stated Congressman Ford.

MG foundation cards available

Donna Stephenson, a Romulus resident and member of the Myasthenia Gravis Association suggests you consider sending MGA greeting cards to your friends and relatives this year.

An MGA holiday greeting is especially meaningful since proceeds from the sale of these cards help to support the association's services for MG patients as well as research into the cause and cure of the mysterious neuromuscular disease, myasthenia gravis.

Three selections are being offered for the 1983 holiday season: Mary & Child, Winter Scene and Bird. All cards come with matching envelopes and are available in boxes of 25 for an $8 donation. The association is also offering attractive all-purpose notecards at $3 for a box of 12.

Samples of the cards and more information about the disease, myasthenia gravis, can be requested by contacting Donna Stephenson, 5882 Heyer, Romulus, 728-9028 or the Myasthenia Gravis Association, 6131 West Outer Drive, Detroit, 48235 or phoning 342-5939.

T-Bone is sizzling star

T-BONE BURNETT
"Proof Through The Night"
(Warner Bros.)

T-Bone Burnett first came to my attention as a member of Bob Dylan's incredible Rolling Thunder Revue, a collage of musicians ranging from Joan Baez and ex-Byrds man Roger McGuinn to poet/auteur Allen Ginsberg to rocker Mick Ronson. They sort of caravaned around the country playing shows. (Dylan's great "Hard Rain" LP came from this tour) and filming practically everything for what was to end up as "Renaldo & Clara," a three-hour epic movie that I've unfortunately never had a chance to see.

But that was 1976. Now, nearly eight years later, Burnette has released his finest album to date (his third), and in its way, one of the best albums of the year.

"Proof Through the Night" is an eloquent, articulate shot of rock 'n' roll crafted with care from a man burdened far too often with being compared to Dylan and Bruce Springsteen, obviously his peers, but a tough bunch to have hanging over his head. There's no reason he should put up with pressure to be the next Springsteen when he obviously does such a good job at being the first T-Bone Burnett.

Like Irish rockers U2, Burnett is actually a Christian rocker, except that no one seems to be aware of the fact, perhaps because their beliefs are inherent to their music and avoid the "preachiness" that would turn off many potential fans.

The album's opening cut, "The Murder Weapon" is a rock 'n' roll treatise on, among other things, war. "It sometimes is strategic," sings Burnette to the guitar wizardry of Ronson, "And sometimes not at all. But you get caught in the fallout, win, lose, or draw."

Along with Ronson, guest musicians include Pete Townshend, Ry Cooder, Stan Lynch (of Tom Petty's Heartbreakers), David Mansfield and British guitarist Richard Thompson.

Other standout tracks include the hilarious "Hefner and Disney," in which Burnett switches the roles of the two pioneers (which they were), which results in the singer distortedly claiming that both characters "rob the children of their dreams."

"Fatally Beautiful" deals brilliantly with the "cult" of Marilyn Monroe worshipers and the irony therein. It's a sad but true (but unlike that statement, it's not cliché-like) story. "She was discovered by a man three times her age that worked for a studio," sings Burnett about the obvious but unnamed figure in the song. "He got her a part in a comedy/ Where she played a dumb blonde whore/ And she posed without clothes for a magazine/ And the offers came in by the score. She was fatally beautiful."

And then the clincher about the "tourist" who's never met her: "He imagines her robe as it drops to the floor/ He imagines her skin soft to touch/ He imagines her naked on silk sheets/ The morning she never woke up." Pow!

Although for me, the emphasis is on the lyrics, it needs to be pointed out that musically, the songs are as pointed and strong as they are wordwise, leaving the record with, as they say, something for everyone.

The tack that first grabbed me was "The Sixties," yet another journey through the sharp-witted Burnett's eyes. No one could be bored with a song that opens with lines "I have a painter friend who says he actually slept with Jacqueline Kennedy . . . or was it John Kennedy? Maybe it was Jacqueline Bisset."

The story, which revolves around a guy who's "hip" in his own mind ("He smokes the best marijuana, has a gold coke-spoon around his neck . . ."). Then, one day "he started hearing about free love and felt left out. So he tortured his imagination dreaming about pot parties with those suntanned girls in cutoffs and halter tops . . ."

With Ronson and Townshend providing the guitar interplay, the protagonist goes on: "now he's got a designer camper. And one time, he even got to sleep in it with one of these girls in the cutoffs. But it felt awful. 'Cause he had to pay her fifty dollars . . . and it was twenty for anybody else."

Agreed, the stone-cold Black Sabbath and Journey fans will find it boring, but there's quite a few of us who grew up on Dylan and Lennon. Enough to make T-Bone Burnett a star.

Drama

Spotlight Players to perform comedy

The Pulitzer prize-winning comedy "You Can't Take It With You" will be performed by the Spotlight Players of the Wayne-Westland Community Theatre at 8 p.m. Friday and Saturday and Oct. 21 and 22 at the John Glenn High School auditorium, 36105 Marquette in Westland.

Written by Moss Hart and George Kaufman, the play opened in New York City in 1936 and centers around the family of Martin Vanderhof (grandpa), portrayed by Richard Kureth.

His daughter Penelope (Betty Goddard) writes plays while her husband Paul (Floyd Guernsey) and meek assistant Mr. DePinna (Joseph Haynes) manufacture fireworks in the basement. Her daughter Essie (Mary Jo Cobello) and Essie's husband Ed (Glen Lundgren) add to the confusion in the home.

Grandpa's problems with the Internal Revenue Service provide much of the story's humor along with the antics of a Russian ballet teacher, a drunken actress and an ex-Russian duchess.

Other main characters will be portrayed by Cheryl Klopshinske, Pam Fisher, Ralph Day, Charles Langton and John Talaske. Carla Lenhoff of Westland will direct the production with assistance from Marv Nochman. Nancy Mouncey is the show's producer.

Completing the 19-member cast are Bob Walker, Mike Swain, Lorraine Parent, Jeff James, Joseph Hoffman, Vivian Garret and Helen DeJulio.

Tickets are priced at $4 for adults and $3 for students and senior citizens. Further information can be obtained by calling 595-6117.

The plot involves an author of popular melodramas and mysteries who wagers $5,000 that he can write a classic thriller within a 24-hour period. To accomplish the feat he isolates himself in a mountain lodge, only to have his solitude interrupted by double-crossing crooks, corrupt officials, an ambitious reporter, a would-be ghost and the police.

Tickets, priced at $4.75, are available daily from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. at the entrance to Greenfield Village or at the museum box office one hour prior to each performance. All seats are reserved.

cable beat

... by dennis fassett

As the sharks bite and slash huge chunks of living flesh from their prey, the competition for the feast drives them to a frenzy. With the clear water whipped to a white foam, the frenzy intensifies until even the attackers are not safe from the wild thrusts of their own species.

Most of us have observed with awe the behavior of sharks during their documented feeding frenzy. And for those of us witnessing the presentations made by cable companies seeking a community's franchise, the picture appears all too familiar. But the combatants in the cable frenzy wear new three-piece suits, and instead of slashing teeth, these "sharks" use the language of technology.

And long live cable television! Since the launch of HBO's exclusive satellite programming for cable in the mid-70s, the value of a cable franchise has continued to increase in proportion to the demand for these services by the public. And as more and more programmers went on the "bird," and more and more people heard about all these "exciting" new programming services on cable, the demand for cable services nearly exploded.

As this demand for cable service grew, and cable executives became more convinced that they had to get their share, the franchising battles heated up to a fever pitch.

City councils were buried with requests for cable franchises from five-six or even seven companies all trying to offer the best deal in order to lock up the franchise. And this was not place for the timid.

If company #1 offered 24 channels of service with one local studio, company #2 offered 25 channels with two studios. Faced with this competition, company #3 offered 25 channels of service in two packages; economy and regular, while throwing in two studios and a mobile production van. Company #4 then offered 26 channels of service in three packages while promising that the system would offer home security systems. Not to be outdone, company #6 and #1 then offered 30 channels of service, three studios, two mobile vans, and home security service. And company #7 withdrew from the competition.

Far fetched you say. Not in the least.

While company #7 had carefully calculated construction costs, programming costs, operations costs, and had concluded that the size of the system restricted service to 24 channels, one studio, and a three-year phase in of security services, the wild bidding unrelated to actual costs, had made the franchise undesirable, and likely, unprofitable.

City fathers would only find out much later that all that is green is not grass.

But company #7 was not out of the game yet.

Realizing that if they were to survive in the jungle of cable, they would have to compete. But also mindful of the fact that a franchise had to be cost-effective, company #7 struck on a different approach.

Perhaps what they could not win in public, they could win in private. And so, they sought out and hired well-known citizens.

Oak Park spoils Romulus Homecoming in OT

Elusive Eagle
Stopping Romulus' prolific scorer Darren Grandison when he has the ball is difficult as Oak Park defenders learned Friday night. Grandison scored 2 TDs and had a 60-yard called back, but the Eagles weren't able to overcome the home field jinx.

Eagles edge Taylor Center, 47-45

After surviving a physical battle with league rival Taylor Center last week, coach Ron Bayes and the Romulus girls' cage team will host their Metro Conference rivals Thursday afternoon.

"It was the worst game I have been involved in," Bayes said after his Eagles walked off the floor at Center with a narrow 47-45 victory. "The officiating was horrendous."

"When they come here I hope to show them how a sports activity is hosted," he continued. "Our kids literally took a physical beating over there."

Taylor Center led after the opening period 10-9 but Romulus, paced by the McKay sisters — Donna and Colleen — rallied to a 24-16 halftime advantage and then hung on 28-26 after scoring only four points in the period. Bonita Meeks came up with five points to keep the Eagles out in front. Donna McKay finished with eight and Colleen had 12 for the evening. Bayes said that exceptional "performances by Yolanda Smith, Cheryl Hawk and Colleen McKay turned the game around for us."

The Eagles didn't have any problems with Oak Park who bowed 54-33.

Eagles waste Grandison's 2 TDs

Darren Grandison scored two touchdowns and had one spectacular 60-yard TD run called back because of a penalty, but Romulus again failed to snap its home field jinx as the Eagles bowed before a shivering Homecoming crowd to Oak Park 18-12 Friday night.

With four minutes remaining in the initial quarter, Grandison tallied from 16 yards out to cap a well-executed 10-play series master-minded by quarterback Terry Roache.

Scotty Hampton's attempt for both point-after failed.

Oak Park came from behind twice and scored touchdowns thanks to Abdullah Mondai and eventually won the game in an overtime.

Grandison saw a 60-yard touchdown taken away from him in the closing minutes of the first half after a clip had been detected. He gave the Eagles a 12-6 edge early in the third quarter, going in from 33-yards out to culminate a mid-field drive.

After the game in regulation time ended in a 12-all deadlock, Romulus received the first chance with the ball and Roache handed off to Grandison for the first two plays and to Vince Morris on the third chance. At the Oak Park 3, Roache unsuccessfully tried to pick up the final yards and the TD via a pass to Steve Blandford which missed its target.

Oak Park connected on a TD pass to end the game and hand the Eagles their 11th consecutive defeat on the home turf since moving to the junior high turf in 1981 in order to play under the lights.

Grandison had another excellent night as he scampered for 191 yards, including the two TDs, on 26 attempts. Also, Roache had a good game at quarterback.

Shawn Perkins, who accounted for 15 total tackles from his nose guard post, Joe Atheron, at monster, Tracy Cline, who had nine tackles, were commendable on defense.

"I felt we played a good ball game," said Romulus Coach Norb Glover. "We had a couple of key letdowns that cost us, but over-all the kids did a good job."

Romulus will not play Taylor Truman as scheduled, but take on Woodhaven Friday night at Woodhaven. Truman apparently is not fielding a team.

Winless Huron gives Islanders a scare

It will be out of the proverbial frying pan and into the fire for Coach Jamie Hinojosa and the Huron Chiefs as they clash with title-bound Monroe Jefferson Friday night.

"Although they are not as big as they have been in the past," noted Coach Hinojosa, "they have an excellent club and outstanding coaching. Their record (4-1) speaks for itself."

Huron travels to Monroe Friday night and will take with them a frustrating 0-5 record after dropping a 24-6 conference decision to Grosse Ile last week. The Chiefs gave the Islanders a scare for three quarters before they were victimized by a three TD fourth period.

"We played an excellent three quarters," Hinojosa said.

After Grosse Ile kicked a field goal in the first quarter, Huron came back and took a 6-3 lead in the second frame as quarterback Tom Richardson scored on a one-yard keeper that capped a 30-yard drive after a Islander punt.

Richardson, who picked off one of two interceptions, and Les Harris, who had the other, also stood out on defense.

The recreation department also is seeking adults for a basketball league scheduled for this fall. Teams and individuals are invited to sign up at the recreation department or telephone 941-0666, extension 254 for further information.

An all new rollerskating program is being offered to Romulus residents this fall. Buses will leave selected sites in the early evenings on Wednesday for Skateland rink in Westland.

The fee for transportation is $1 per person, ages 5 through adult. There is also a fee charged by the roller rink for admission and skate rentals, if required.

Residents should call the recreational offices to find out the nearest pick-up site.

MARLENE O'CONNOR
Age 51 of Westland, died October 7, 1983. Dear mother of Donna Mishler, Deborah Singer, Edwin J. Barko, Jr., Joylyn Lottsbach, Richard Barko, Lawrence and Patrick. Sister of Mary Jane, also 10 grandchildren. Funeral at the UHT FUNERAL HOME, 35400 Glenwood, Westland, Wednesday, Oct. 12 at 10:00 A.M. Interment at United Memorial Gardens. Officiating the funeral was Rev. Andrew Nieckarz.

Those inevitable moments... will be easier to face when arrangements have been made in advance. Not having to make a multitude of decisions and the assurance that everything is being done according to your wishes... these comforts are well worth the time taken now.

A traditional cemetery with perpetual care and beautifully wooded, rolling hills. Few restrictions.

HOW TO SELL A CAR!

1. Take that "for sale" sign out of the window. (It blocks your vision and only a few people will see it anyway.)
2. Advertise your car in classified. (Thousands of potential buyers will see your ad.)
3. Prepare to say goodbye to your car, because one of those people will buy it. (There's always somebody ready to pay good cash for a car like yours.)
